

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The occasion of the installation of the newly elected officers for the year, in the various departments of the First Baptist church, which took place at the church last night at 8 o'clock, followed by a program of music, readings and inspirational talks at the Tabernacle, was a notable event in the life of the local church. Good fellowship prevailed, and unity of purpose to accomplish much in the church work during the coming year. A vision of greater usefulness in the Master's business in Bryan, was evidenced in the impromptu talks by retiring and incoming officers, and pledging to stand together in united effort for the task before them, the program for another year was launched.

The good pastor, Dr. Jno. A. Held, presided and after appropriate scripture reading and prayer he spoke from his heart words of inspiration to the official family of the church assembled before him and together, pastor and people, with renewed determination, and with unity of purpose set their faces toward another year of church activity in Bryan. Others making short talks were: R. S. Webb, Jr., the newly elected Sunday school superintendent, T. R. Batte, Jno. A. Moore, Jr., Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. T. R. Batte, H. O. Boatwright, Mrs. Howard R. Cavitt, W. S. Barron, Mrs. A. J. Buchanan and Mrs. J. Webb Howell.

After the business session at the church the crowd repaired to the tabernacle where amid decorations of flowers and ferns two brimming bowls of delicious punch with sandwiches awaited them, and a delightful social hour was spent. A program of excellent merit, conducted by Mrs. George B. Butler, added much to the pleasure of the occasion. Vocal music was rendered by Mrs. Gabe Cazell and Mrs. J. Webb Howell and Mrs. John A. Held, George Butler, Jr., and Miss Madeline de Steiguer favored the audience with readings.

TEACHERS ENTERTAINED
BRYAN COUNTRY CLUB

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, Oct. 1.—An informal reception and get-together meeting at the Bryan Country Club will be tendered all of the new officers and teachers of the College by the Chamber of Commerce and citizenship of Bryan and by the "old college group." This reception will be given Thursday October 6th at 8:30 o'clock. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Bryan this matter was presented to the directors and a unanimous decision was reached to entertain the entire College community. A brief informal program will be arranged by the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce but the emphasis of the evening will be placed on the introduction of all new persons at College to the older residents and the people of Bryan. It is hoped that all officers and teachers of the College will attend.

Tabor Community Fair Was A Great Success

The Third Annual Fair held under the auspices of the Tabor Welfare Club of Brazos County at Tabor, Texas, September 30, 1921, demonstrated thoroughly the ambitions and public spirited people of that community. The up-to-date, well equipped high school building has been enlarged and greatly improved since last year and would compare favorably with some schools in our Texas towns. The building is lighted with Delco lights and meets the State requirements in regard to heat and sanitary drinking water. The auditorium of the building was tastefully decorated with evergreens and bunting to lend a gala effect and in this hall was displayed in the exhibits of the Woman's Department. On the right of the main entrance was the "Bazaar" presided over by Mrs. Armstrong, the display consisted of jelly, preserves, pickles, cakes, jam, butter, eggs, pecans and ribbon cane syrup, all donated by the people within the school district and sold for the benefit of the Delco lighting system which was installed in the building by the Tabor Welfare Club. The next booth, decorated in green and red was in charge of Mrs. Francis and exhibited the canned fruits, vegetables, pickles, preserves and jelly and were arranged in a most artistic manner. The "booth of sweets" biscuits and home made bread had a wonderful display of loaf cakes, Angel food and layer cakes, also pies of every description and home made candy. Mrs. J. L. Cobb having charge of this booth. After the prizes were awarded in this booth many of the cakes were soon sold as well as the candy.

The largest booth in the hall was the Needle Work, Miss Mary Benbow having this under her supervision. The walls on either side were hung with handsome bed spreads and quilts. Long tables were filled with centre pieces, scarves, infants dresses and caps, while on racks were hung gingham dresses, cook aprons and lungalow aprons of every description. On the left of the main entrance the Red Cross booth, representing a "Health Center" was in charge of Mrs. J. T. Hanway, representing the health department of the Bryan County Red Cross, assisted by Miss Berry from the State University, Austin. The booth was decorated with Red Cross posters showing the various activities of the Red Cross, but the health feature predominated. Scales were provided by the courtesy of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Bryan and during the day Miss Berry weighed and measured about one hundred and seventy five children. Prizes were awarded by the Red Cross in the afternoon. A large box of stationery to Ray Hughes, a knife to Lloyd Locke and a pair of pink silk socks to little Walter Holden, the latter and Chas. Bobo of Harvey drawing for this prize as both were normal babies. Next to the Red Cross was an educational booth arranged by Mrs. G. M. Ammons. Drawings and paper flowers showed some of the work of the primary grades. The silver cup won by the basketball team demonstrated the prominent place this school holds in county athletics. Maps and interesting charts showing the progress of Tabor school in educational matters helped to make this an interesting booth. The list of premiums will appear tomorrow.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WANDERER DIES AS HE SINGS "OLD PAL"

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 30.—Singing a popular song, Carl Wanderer, convicted of murder of his wife, unborn babe and a "ragged stranger" was hanged in the county jail at 7:19 o'clock this morning. Wanderer marched to gallows with firm step. As he took place on scaffold he repeated a prayer after the minister. When he was asked if he had anything to say he replied in the affirmative and as the shroud was adjusted, in clear voice he started the song, "Old Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me." He was singing when the trap dropped and he was hanged until he was dead. Wanderer was convicted of one of the worst murder plots ever conjured in man's brain which involved the horror of his and her murder in a brutal manner.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY EXHIBIT
LOADED FOR THE DALLAS FAIR

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, Oct. 6.—The livestock exhibits of the Animal Husbandry departments were loaded for their trip to the Dallas Fair and International Exposition yesterday under the direction of Professor G. S. Templeton, head of the department. The exhibit is one of the largest ever made at the Fair and is expected to take valuable prizes.

BRYAN ROTARY CLUB
RECEIVES CHARTER FROM V-PRES STARK

The Bryan Rotary Club No. 942 received its charter on Tuesday evening at a delightful luncheon at which the ladies were the special guests of the club and Hon. J. Luther Stark, of Orange, Texas, third vice-president of the International Rotary Club was the principal speaker and delivered the charter; the following being the first officers: T. K. Lawrence, president; Lee J. Rountree, vice-president; Oak McKenzie, secretary; R. W. Howell, treasurer; G. Sam Parker, sergeant-at-arms. Following Mr. Stark's address, after he was introduced by President Lawrence, appropriate talks were made by Prof. R. O. Allen, Mr. Wallace, Prof. Cazell, Rev. Bird and Mrs. J. A. McQueen. In the contest on "Home Life" the prize was awarded to Mrs. Roy C. Stone, by the committee composed of the following: Dean J. C. Nagle, Ernest Moore, D. L. Wilson and J. T. S. Park and the trophy was presented by Prof. Allen in a unique speech. There was a good deal of "pep" in the meeting aroused by the Rotary songs, led by Rev. Bird, Prof. Cazell and Mr. Stark. This was the first event of the kind given by the Bryan Rotary Club and was greatly enjoyed as the speech was along the broad lines of education, public service and home life. He had recently made a trip to Europe with the International Rotary Club and brought a great message to Bryan Rotarians. Among other things Mr. Stark who is a member of the board of regents of the State University at Austin stated that the time had surely and certainly come when the people of Texas should be aroused to the true situation which confronts all the schools, the University, A. & M. College and other institutions of higher learning. He said President W. B. Bizzell could not carry successfully all the responsibility and should receive the hearty support of every citizen in Texas. Mr. Stark then delivered the charter and President Lawrence stated that of the 1000 Rotary Clubs now in existence in the world no charter had ever been surrendered.

The affair and the luncheon was a splendid and delightful success and was enjoyed greatly by the ladies as was expressed by Mrs. J. A. McQueen at the close of the festivities. Present were: Rev. and Mrs. S. Moylan Bird, Prof. and Mrs. R. O. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore, Mrs. F. L. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Wallace, Mrs. T. K. Lawrence, J. Luther Stark of Orange Texas, Bessie Heard, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McQueen, Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Cazell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Haswell, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Howell, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Beckwith, Miss Lois Pipkin, D. X. Bible, Ike Ashburn, Miss Mildred Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Phoebe S. Park, E. B. LaRoche, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sam Parker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. S. Park, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fairman, Miss Mattie Long, D. L. Wilson, J. C. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Friley Wilson Bradley, Mrs. Robert W. Howell, Mrs. Wilson Bradley, R. W. Howell, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Bizzell, Mr. and Mrs. Oak McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Lawrence.

GRADUATE STUDENT
GIVEN CERTIFICATE

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, Oct. 5.—Taking advantage of the public gathering in Guion Hall Saturday evening, President W. B. Bizzell, presented a certificate of graduation to K. I. Thadani, who had previously passed his graduate examination given by the committee on graduate studies. Mr. Thadani after securing his degree from the University of Bombay, India came here last February for the purpose of pursuing graduate work in plant breeding, and has pursued his studies continuously since that time. In the opinion of several members of the committee Mr. Thadani passed the most satisfactory examination of any man who has been before the committee in recent years. His major work was Agronomy 501 and 502, this being a course in advanced plant breeding for graduate students, special emphasis placed on cotton. His work was taken under the direction of Dr. J. O. Morgan, head of the Agronomy department. Mr. Thadani will leave soon for his home in India, where he will be engaged in experiment work as an employee of the British government.

HOWAT IS ELECTED NEW PARTY DELEGATE

(By Associated Press)
Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—With the adoption of a declaration favoring the creation of a new political party organized labor, organized farmers conventions and United Mine Workers ended today. Alexander Howat was elected as a delegate to International Mining Congress in England next year. Howat will be out of prison by that time.

THE A & M COLLEGE WILL SHOW LIVE STOCK AT DALLAS

College Station, Texas, Oct. 5.—What promises to be one of the greatest steer shows the Animal Husbandry department of A. & M. College of Texas has ever made will be shown at the State Fair and International Exposition at Dallas, according to statements made by Prof. George B. Templeton, head of the department. Twenty one head of steers will be shown, including three breeds and all show classes. These steers include Prince Perfecto 11th. He was grand champion hereford steer at the State Fair last fall, and also grand champion at the International Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth last spring, and made first in the college and experimental station division at the International Exposition and Livestock show at Chicago last December. He was beaten in open class at Chicago by the Colonel E. H. Taylor of Kentucky steer which was later made grand champion hereford steer of the show.

Prince Perfecto 13th, first prize junior calf at Fort Worth last spring and probably a better steer today than Prince Perfecto 11th will also be shown by the College. Several steers from prominent herds over the state will complete the A. & M. exhibit. These include a senior Angus calf donated to the College by Hill and Son of Christoval, Texas, junior yearling hereford steer donated by Henry Half, Midland, Texas; senior yearling shorthorn steer donated by E. W. Forrester, Sanger, Texas; junior yearling Shorthorn steer, donated by John Saul, Robert Lee, Texas; and junior Shorthorn calf donated by Elliott and Rudd, Mary Neal, Texas.

VISIT TO CAPITAL CITY

(Special to the Eagle)
College Station, Texas, Oct. 6.—W. Wiprecht, business manager of the college was in Austin yesterday on official business with the board of control, comptroller and the attorney general.

APPRECIATES THE LADIES.

Prof. Gabe Cazell, of Mineral Wells who led the "pep" singers at the Rotary banquet Tuesday evening states that he feels grateful to the ladies for their hearty support in the Rotary songs and stunts. Had it not been for the ladies (and we might add Major Ike S. Ashburn, Coach D. X. Bible, Rev. S. Moylan Bird and other noted singers) the occasion would not have been the glorious success it was. Prof. Cazell will return to Mineral Wells Friday.

BRIDGE BONDS TO BE VOTED ON BRAZOS
COUNTY NOVEMBER 5

Judge H. O. Ferguson and Commissioners John M. Moore, C. M. DeGalia, George P. Edge and E. B. Holland have ordered an election on the $100,000 bridge bonds in Brazos County for Saturday, November 5th. Judge Ferguson will issue the official order next Monday. This is following the instructions of the mass meeting of citizens of the county held at the court house in Bryan recently. The proposition is to take up the outstanding bridge obligations amounting to $46,000 and place the remainder of the amount in the rebuilding of bridges that need it in all sections of Brazos county and every bridge will be repaired in the county to the amount of $54,000, provided the people approve the issue. The whole question is submitted to the voters of the county.

OF CROWS MURDER

(By Associated Press)
Waco, Texas, Oct. 6.—Since the death of Louis Crow, a prominent citizen of Waco by stabbing, the situation growing out of the Lorena tragedy is quiet today. It is reported that Sheriff Buchanan had a bad night. Other wounded are reported improving and out of danger. It is believed the grand jury will be called next week to investigate affairs at Lorena. The killing of Louis Crow was uncalculated for and was the act of a man who did not know what he was doing. The knife entered his body and penetrated his liver and then was driven into his body by terrific force of a man deeply angered. Full investigation will be made.

A & M MASONIC CLUB TO SOLICIT FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING

College Station, Texas, Oct. 6.—Plans for pushing the campaign to raise funds for construction of the proposed Masonic club house on grounds adjoining the campus were made at the first meeting of the local Masonic club held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors at A. & M. College last night. Dr. O. M. Ball was selected to make collection of the $10,000 pledged by the Arabia Temple of Houston, and Major Ike Ashburn was appointed to visit the various clubs in the state and solicit help from those clubs. About 50 were present. Several talks were made, chief of which was delivered by S. C. Hoyle, editor of Extension Service publications. It was voted to hold regular meetings the first Tuesday in each month and to invite some prominent Mason to address each regular meeting.

AUTOMOBILISTS MUST RENDER ASSISTANCE

(By Associated Press)
Austin, Tex., Oct. 5.—The law requiring the driver of an automobile which strikes a person to stop and render necessary aid was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals today and two cases of violation of the law was affirmed.

MISS VIVIAN HOWELL GETS APPOINTMENT

Miss Vivian Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howell of Bryan who has been a student at the State University at Austin for the past two years has received an honor in her appointment to an executive position on the State Board of Education under Miss Annie Webb Blanton. Miss Howell, has during her term of study in the State University made an enviable record for thoroughness and efficiency, and it is a source of joy to her many friends in Bryan that she has been thus rewarded. Miss Howell will continue her work in the University and hold her position after school hours.

UNKNOWN AMERICAN SOLDIER SELECTED

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Oct. 4.—The unknown American soldier who will find an honored sepulchre in the National Cemetery at Arlington will be selected by a non-commissioned officer of the American forces on the Rhine at Chalons-sur-Marne on October 24.

MAJ GENERAL DICKMAN HAS BEEN RETIRED

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 6.—Major General Joseph T. Dickman, Commander of Eighth Corps Area, headquarters at Fort Sam Houston and former chief of the army of occupation in Germany retired today from active service of the army. He had a continuous record for more than forty-five years in the military service. General Dickman directed the third division on the Aisne front during the world war, Chateau Thierry sector, Champagne and Marne offensive, the Aisne and Marne offensive. He later commanded the fourth army corps at St. Mihiel offensive of the first army of Meuse and Argonne and operations of the third army of Germany. He was decorated by France, Belgium and the United States.

MR. RIGBY RETURNS HOME.
William Rigby, who recently returned from a trip to his old home in England tell some interesting facts regarding the situation in the British Isles. He says the labor system is very bad which is caused by much unemployment. The man who works must support all those who do not work in England. Taxes and food stuffs are high. Gasoline is 60 cents a gallon, sugar 13 cents per pound and meat 60 cents per pound and other things in proportion. Mr. Rigby did not stay in England long on account of the unsatisfactory conditions and spent some time in Canada on his way home where he and Mrs. Rigby visited friends.

The following clipping from the Waco News-Tribune will be read with interest by Bryan friends: "S. S. Paschal of Bryan and Miss Lena Blackwell of Mount Pleasant were married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Rev. P. T. Goodwin at 2421 Colonial Avenue, Rev. Goodwin, pastor of the Turner Street Baptist church officiating. The bride and groom left at once for Bryan where they will make their future home." Mr. and Mrs. Paschal have arrived in this city and are at home at the residence of Mrs. Minnie McAlpine on Usurline Avenue. Mr. Paschal is a student at A. & M. College for the year.

pieces of Bach, Hayden, Mozart, and Beethoven; then and only then can one realize what has been accomplished in a country.

Obstacles are giving away and the art is becoming more general among all classes. The great wealth of our country has served us well in attracting the best musicians of all countries to our shores as well as assisting in the development of native talent of musical production in general.

The music of the negro, while alien music and from its inherent worth has become a part of our heritage and served as a foundation for our folk has proved valuable through the use made of it by Dvorak, Chadwick and others.

In the march of progress which has carried American civilization to its present position of equality among the nations of the earth there is no factor more interesting than the advance in the general culture of music through the medium of the public schools. In this way special programs may be prepared for national holidays or school events, glee clubs organized, etc. When Admiral Dewey was welcomed by New York a chorus of three thousand school children sang, "See, the Conquering Hero Comes" and other songs were so beautifully sung that the admiral was moved to tears by their sweet childish voices and enthusiastic greeting.

Our own superintendent of our public schools, Mr. Madison Hall, is making an effort to secure music in our schools and let us hope that his efforts will succeed. America needs music in the daily life of its people; it relaxes and gently stimulates; at one time is expressed the deepest melancholy and anon unwonted exuberance of spirit; the languor of the Southern climate impedes us but there echoes back all the songs of the Southern people as from some giant Aeolian harp which plays of itself the melody and harmony which the gods breathe forth upon it, making a mighty music that causes listening mortals to stand in rapture and entranced; and it is believed that America will soon furnish the greatest number of singers of the highest order; notwithstanding our deficiency, it is possible for Americans to occupy prominent places in the musical world as a glance at the list of well known artists now before the public will show. In every phase of the art as singers, pianists, organists, teachers, etc., America is capable of producing as great talent as any country of Europe.

I think the love of music becomes greater each year; though sad enough we find many who seem perfectly indifferent and in the words of Shakespeare let me say "The man that hath no music in himself nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds is fit for treason, stratagem and spoil. The motions of his spirit are dull as night and his affection dark as Erebus. Let no such man be trusted." But on the contrary let us remember the beautiful words of Tennyson's Lalla Rookh. "And music, too, dear music, that you can touch beyond all else the soul that loves music. Now heard far off, so far as but to seem the faint, exquisite music of a dream."

BANKS ARE ADVERTISING.

(Denton Record-Chronicle.)

Fort Worth banks are spending money individually in institutional advertising and in addition are co-operating in the expenditure of $12,000 for a year in joint advertising of functions that a bank may perform for an individual and for a community as a whole. Time was when for a bank to advertise would have brought on as big a shock as for a doctor to use display space to tell of himself; it was unethical or regarded so. But the time, happily, is past, and the banks are bringing themselves and their functions before the public through real advertising.

Bankers know their business and are prone to think the fundamentals of it are perfectly understood by others—an idea that is rather general among most professions. But modern banks are functioning in many ways that would be of advantage to the general public and to the banks as well if the general public understood them; and that is what the bankers of this day and time are doing in the use of merchandising methods that might at one time have been considered beneath their dignity, but which so far as the public can see, has not impaired their dignity, but the contrary rather enhanced it. Banks are committed to the upbuilding of their communities, not only because it is right and proper that they should be so committed, but because their success is indissolubly bound in the welfare and growth of their territories.

And in passing, it might be well to suggest that the banks would be able to do much more than they are able to do if every dollar in the community were put into the banks where it would work to the upbuilding of that community's business and general prosperity. The unbanked dollar, the hoarded dollar, is worth mighty little to the community; the dollar in the bank is equivalent to five dollars in the credit of the community.

Governor Neff states that although the State penitentiary system is about $1,000,000 in debt he may be able to keep it going without calling the legislature in January. In times past there have been too many men connected with the Texas penitentiary system who were incompetent and inefficient. They have wrecked the system that should be on a paying basis. The state needs fewer and more efficient employees.

It seems strange that Henry Ford, of Michigan, and Governor Lynch Davidson, of Texas, can take defunct railroads and make them pay. It is argued that Ford and Davidson are too practical and believe in efficiency hence are public enemies. When men can make a success of their own business (even successfully managing a peanut stand) they are better qualified than a number of persons who only wreck big business. The railroad business has been running itself since 1914 and too many men engaged in the business are only interested in drawing their breath and their salaries. The public, however, must pay the bill at the destruction of business and prosperity.

"AULD LANG SYNE"

Under the heading of October 5, 1896, "Twenty-five Years Ago," the Houston Post says: Austin—Editor Lee J. Rountree, of Hays County and member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, was the speaker at a rousing meeting of the Austin Bryan-Sewall club last night. Mr. Rountree was the guest of the Austin club. He made an able defense of the democracy and paid a glowing tribute to William J. Bryan, Chas. A. Culberson and Jos. D. Sayers.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING TUESDAY

The Board of Directors of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock with President Tyler Haswell, residing and Secretary Eberstadt at the desk. Present were: Tyler Haswell, E. J. Fountain, J. N. Dulane, Major L. L. McInnis, W. H. Cole, Judge J. T. Maloney, M. E. Wallace, D. L. Wilson, J. M. Gordon Oak McKenzie, Lee J. Rountree, T. K. Lawrence and Secretary S. E. Eberstadt. Visitors, Rev. H. C. Willis, pastor of the Methodist church.

Chairman Oak McKenzie of the Entertainment Committee stated that all the arrangements had been made for the reception for the A. & M. College teachers and instructors in all departments. Allen Academy, Bryan High School, Villa Maria Academy and the schools of Brazos county and asked that the board of directors act as a reception committee at the Bryan Country Club on Thursday evening October 6th, which was agreed to by the board.

Chairman D. L. Wilson, of the Highway Committee brought up the proposition of Bryan establishing a tourist camp, believing that it would be advantageous to have the camp. Upon motion the question was referred to the City Development and Highway Committee for action.

Secretary Eberstadt reported that he had gone to Tabor on September 29th and assisted in the arrangements for the Tabor Fair and that it was a great success in every respect. He estimated the attendance at about 1200 people and 200 of those from Bryan. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of questions of vital interest to Bryan, Brazos County and A. & M. College by many of the members present.

J. Will Hall went to Calvert Sunday where he will take over the management of the Howell & Company branch house in that city. Mrs. Hall will go to Calvert about October 15 and they will make that their home. While Mr. Hall's many friends are proud of the business promotion that has come to him, they regret exceedingly to lose him and his estimable family as citizens.

SINGING SOCIETY OF BRAZOS COUNTY

The semi-annual meeting of the Brazos County Singing Convention was held Sunday, October 2, at Steep Hollow church, with an attendance of nearly one thousand people. The Unity Musical Convention, composed of the choirs of the rural churches of Brazos, Madison and Grimes counties, was organized more than forty years ago, and out of this organization, each of the counties represented, formed themselves into a county organization in October 1898, this being the twenty-third annual meeting of the Brazos County convention. It has been the custom to meet once a year, on the first Sunday in July, but last July it was decided that a semi-annual meeting should be held, and the time for these meetings was fixed on the first Sunday in May and October.

President E. U. Peters of the convention, and Secretary Louis Thompson, were in their places at the appointed hour, 10 o'clock, and the meeting was called to order. A large attendance of singers from the various rural churches of the county, made the program of singing especially fine, and the day was one long to be remembered because of the spiritual uplift from the singing of the hymns of Zion, and the christian fellowship of the people. After the morning service was concluded, a bountiful dinner was served underneath the giant oaks that cluster around the old church, and an hour of neighborly greeting and renewing old time friendships was enjoyed. Promptly at 1:30 p. m. the president called the meeting to order for another program of songs. Special numbers were given by a visiting quartette composed of Ben and H. E. Magness of Madisonville, and O. L. and Jim Francis of Normangee which was greatly enjoyed. Special mention should be made of two young choir leaders, who led the convention during the afternoon: Britton Henderson of Kurten, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Henderson, and James Riley Saxon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Saxon of the Reliance community. By unanimous vote the Brazos County Singing convention will hold its next regular session on the first Sunday in May 1922 with the Harvey church.

CLEVE BUCHELS LEG BROKEN TABOR RODEO

While riding in the Rodeo at the Tabor Community Fair Friday afternoon Cleve Buchels, of the Shep Clay plantation broke his spur and fell from his horse, both bones in his right leg being broken between the knee and ankle. He was immediately brought to Bryan and put under medical treatment. The people gathered at the Rodeo generously made up about $50 and presented it to Mr. Buchels to aid him in his trouble. It was a generous, thoughtful act and all hope for Mr. Buchels' early and complete recovery.

John C. Vick has returned from Llano where he purchased two car loads of hogs to fatten on the mast, which is very fine in Brazos County this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Willis of Waco are here for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Waldrop. Mr. Willis and Mrs. Waldrop are brother and sister.

Texas Must Look To Her Flood Damages

(Judge J. Felton Lane in Hearne Democrat.)

The Democrat editor is in receipt of a letter from Hon. Lee J. Rountree, Representative in the State Legislature of the twenty-second district, in which he expresses his hearty approval of the suggestions made in our editorial in last week's issue entitled "Let's Lock The Stable Door." Representative Rountree, who is one of the most influential members of the Thirty Seventh legislature, and is being urged by friends throughout the state to submit his name as a candidate for speaker of the Thirty Eighth legislature says: "It is my purpose now, if there is a called session of the Texas Legislature in January, to ask Governor Neff to submit the subject of "Flood Prevention in Texas," according to the text of your editorial in the Hearne Democrat. If the Governor agrees to this, then I will ask an appropriation, as an emergency measure, amounting to $15,000 to make a state topographical survey of the Brazos bottom lands in Robertson, Brazos, Burleson, Grimes, and other counties along said river bottom, to ascertain the cost of reclamation and prevention levees, and the cost of widening and opening the river bed where it is thought advisable, to meet the flood menace now confronting us, and involving at least one hundred thousand acres of the richest lands in the world (not even excepting the Valley of the Nile). We must not sit idly by and fail to do our duty along these lines. Then if the survey is favorable the land owners can create levee districts if they wish, and I shall ask state and federal appropriations to the limit to aid them in their undertaking.

"When I received your paper containing this editorial I had just been discussing the subject with E. H. Astin, and other land owners who had suffered so heavily in the recent Brazos river flood. The reason this is a condition which entitles us to state and national aid is the fact that the floods damaged Robertson, Brazos, Grimes and Burleson counties were not from local rains, but came from the counties west of us, from the river Leon, the Little River, the San Gabriel, and other rivers. The rainfall in the water sheds drained by the above mentioned rivers has been estimated from eighteen to thirty-seven inches in sections of Bell, Williamson and Milam counties. By all means: "Let's Lock The Stable Door" for the preservation in the future of human life and the valuable properties constantly swept away by these frequently recurring floods."

Engineer May Turn Purgatory Flood Waters.

(San Marcos Daily Times.)

Texas Reclamation Engineer Arthur A. Stiles, headquarters at Austin, spent a portion of Thursday afternoon and evening, September 22, in San Marcos on business. Mr. Stiles had been invited to San Marcos by the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of looking over the present bed of lower Purgatory, the stream that causes water to back up in San Marcos proper, when heavy rains occur, and ascertain if there is not a practical manner in which the stream may be directed into the San Marcos river below the town, rather than through the southern portion. Mr. Stiles went with a committee of San Marcosans, after having been met at the train by them, on out west of town where a bluff rises causing the creek to wind to the north of the bluff which, in turn, brings the waters through San Marcos. Local citizens, at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, had talked the matter over, and the idea prevails that it may be feasible and practical to build a levee north of the bluff, causing the water to follow another natural channel which will divert it away from near the I. & G. N. and Katy depots, where it caused damage during the recent flood. Engineer Stiles made a careful survey of the situation, stated Secretary Grant and President Wilson of the Chamber of Commerce, and will soon make a report of his findings in the premises.

Lawyer Terrell Defends The "Invisible Empire"

(By Universal Service)

Washington, Sept. 30.—The Ku Klux Klan yesterday turned its propaganda guns on Congress. Literature of the "Invisible Empire," accompanied by a letter lauding the aims of the Klansmen, was sent to every Senator and Representative by Harry T. Terrell of this city, attorney for the organization. The letter is understood to have been prepared by Terrell in conference with Imperial Wizard William J. Simmons soon after Representative Tague of Massachusetts introduced his resolution demanding that the Klan be investigated and stamped out. The letter states: "Propaganda has been manufactured from the fact that Catholics, Jews and negroes are not eligible for membership in the order. While we 'wage' war on these three classes no more than do either of the three on white Protestants, we claim, in all fairness, that white Protestants have an equal right to organize a secret order, if they desire. Only Catholics are eligible for membership in the Knights of Columbus; the B'n'r B'rith is open only to Jews, the negro has many secret orders admitting only the colored races. All these were organized long before the Ku Klux Klan." The letter declares that members of Congress will be given additional information regarding the Klan if they so desire. Terrell's letter declares that every Klansman is sworn to uphold the law; denies that the Klan has violated any laws and that no evidence sufficient for the indictment of a Klansman has yet been submitted to a grand jury. With the letter were inclosed several pamphlets. One is entitled the "Ku Klux Klan, Yesterday, Today and Forever." Another is "Americans, Take Heed," issued by the Imperial Palace, Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The third is labeled the "A B C of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan." The front of this pamphlet is adorned with the words "We were here yesterday, we are here today, we will be here forever," and "an urgent call to real men."

The man in business in these strenuous times, who does not advertise will be forgotten. Phone Bryan Daily Eagle, No. 36.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by and by, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

At all druggists.

Dr. Freeman, Noted Scientist at Colleg

(Special to the Eagle)

College Station, Texas, October 3.—Dr. George F. Freeman, who was recently appointed chief of the division of cotton breeding of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, A. & M. College, has arrived and assumed his duties, succeeding Dr. E. P. Humbert, who resigned this post last year, to take up commercial work.

Dr. Freeman comes to Texas from Cairo, Egypt, where he has had charge of one of the largest cotton breeding programs now under way in any part of the world and which has had, as a result of three years of his work, some remarkable results. Several varieties of cotton were bred up during this three year period, to a point where the improved strains showed increases in selling value of ten to twenty dollars per bale due to superior staple and at the same time increased yields were also accomplished while the staple improvement was going on. Similar work is being carried on at the Texas Station by Dr. Freeman as rapidly as available facilities will permit. If similar increases can be accomplished in the selling values of cotton to be produced in Texas, it will mean the addition of more than thirty-five million dollars annually to the value of the Texas cotton crop. Such a gain, if achieved, would be equal, not only to an amount sufficient to run the entire A. and M. College and Experiment Station System, but would exceed the entire annual appropriation for running the state government, and would be a most welcome boon to the cotton growers of the state.

Director Youngblood stated today that he is very much gratified to have been able to secure the services of Dr. Freeman, because of his peculiar fitness for the special work at hand. A native of the South, having been reared on a cotton farm in Alabama, Dr. Freeman began life with an interest in and close familiarity with the practical side of cotton growing. Entering the Alabama A. and M. College in young manhood, he now holds the degrees of Bachelor of Science from that institution and the degree of Doctor of Science from Harvard University. In his college and university training, Dr. Freeman specialized in agriculture, plant physiology and genetics and has since gained a wide experience in the investigation and teaching of these subjects, while connected with the Massachusetts Agricultural College as an instructor, 1903-04; the Kansas State Agricultural College, 1904-09, as instructor, professor and head of department of plant breeding in the University of Arizona, 1909-18, and in the Sultanate Agricultural Society of Egypt during the past three years. He has also made a wide study of cotton growing, cotton breeding, cotton consumption and the economics of the cotton situation throughout the world, visiting for these purposes, Japan, China, India, Egypt, England and the various cotton growing and consuming centers of the United States.

The progress, improvement and specialization of cotton milling machinery and the diverse uses in which cotton and its products are now being employed, has created a demand for different types and qualities of cotton, each fitted for its special uses. Manufacturers are therefore willing to pay higher prices for cottons particularly adapted to a special need. For instance, among the manufacturers of cotton blankets, of automobile tires or of very fine thin lawns, each needs a cotton distinct in characters from that of the others and is willing to pay the premium for a cotton that exactly meets the specific need.

Although America continues as the leading cotton producing country in the world and Texas the leading cotton producing state, it must be remembered that we by no means have a monopoly. Cotton production is increasing rapidly in many other countries, particularly within the British empire; and England has recently set apart a very large sum of money to promote the growing and breeding of cotton in her dominions and colonial possessions. Brazil, according to Prof. T. R. Day, a former A. and M. man, now conducting a group of experiment stations in that country, is developing the cotton industry at a rapid rate and Prof. Day reported in a recent lecture here, yields as high as two bales per acre and stated that there is an area in that country suitable to cotton growing, as broad in extent as that in the United States. It should be further remembered that America is producing cotton with the most intelligent and highest priced labor of any other cotton growing section of the world. If, therefore, we are to continue to compete with and dominate the cotton markets of the world, we must do so by meeting the demands of these world markets in furnishing the specialized cottons which they need and hence compensating for our high priced labor by obtaining a higher price for our cotton.

Cotton breeding is one of the chief activities of the Experiment Station system, due to the supremacy of this crop in the established farming schedule in Texas. In 1910, the Texas station began a project involving a fundamental study of inheritance in cotton: The work has been continued systematically and is now beginning to yield new and original information on inheritance of characters, both desirable and undesirable, in the American upland cottons. These new facts will be reported in a bulletin at an early date.

While continuing these fundamental studies, Dr. Freeman will do everything possible to aid and encourage the breeding and improvement of cotton varieties by interested breeders in addition to his work in the production of new and economically more desirable varieties of cotton for the different cotton growing regions of the state, availing himself of the several substations in the different regions of

Navasota Pleased With Brazos Co. Concrete Highway

(Houston Post.)

That piece of bad road which passes through the Navasota bottoms, at a point three miles north of Navasota in Brazos county, which has enjoyed an unenviable reputation among automobile tourists from Maine to California, no longer has terrors for the traveler, for it has ceased to exist and has been replaced by an excellent stretch of concrete road. The new road is 1.6 miles in length, 18 feet wide and cost approximately $45,000. It was completed and opened for traffic on September , taking the place of a dirt road that was practically impassable in wet weather.

While this piece of road is in Brazos county and the work was done by the authorities of that county, yet the people of Navasota are deeply gratified at the improvement and owing to its proximity to that city, naturally much of the credit for the new road is being given by travelers to Navasota, as the section through which it passes is known as the Navasota bottoms.

Fine Piece of Work.

All who have been over this new highway say it is one of the best pieces of concrete road construction to be found anywhere. Care was taken to construct wide ditches on each side of the road in order to provide for proper drainage, and the road is well banked at points where there is danger of it being undermined by overflow waters from the Brazos river. As a matter of fact the new road was put through a severe test several weeks ago, when portions of it were flooded by overflow waters from the Brazos, but it sustained no damage whatever.

A trip was made by the Post touring party last Sunday to Navasota, when the Post staff photographer obtained some good pictures of this improvement. While in Navasota the Post party were entertained by officers of the Navasota chamber of commerce in a most hospitable manner. Dinner was served the visitors at the Camp hotel and the new piece of road was visited afterward.

Navasota is fortunate in having such a live wire organization as the chamber of commerce. Although only six years old, the organization now has 218 members and in fact every merchant in the city is a member. Excellent quarters have been provided in a ground floor location in the heart of the city and already the city feels the stimulation this organization has given it.

S. W. Adams, general manager of the chamber of commerce came to Navasota six months ago from San Augustine, and in that time has done much toward building up the organization and making it a valuable asset to the community.

Were Hospitably Entertained.

The Post party are not only indebted to Mr. Adams, but to Rev. H. M. Hunsom, president of the chamber of commerce, and R. A. Patout and Hal B. Stoneham of the board of directors for many courtesies extended them. The road to Navasota from Houston via Hempstead is in good shape and passes through a beautiful section of country, especially after passing Hempstead, when it becomes a section of gently undulating hills, affording a wide variety of scenery. Most of the time the road is in excellent shape for automobile traveling and the distance between the two cities, 5 miles, is not too great for those desiring a pleasant, all day trip.

WEE BOY TRAVELER REACHED BRYAN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Twelve o'clock Sunday while the train was stopped at Mart for dinner a wee little three year old boy, Hardin Wilson Cadenhead boarded the train unnoticed and was not missed by his parents until long after the train was on its way to Bryan. Mr. and Mrs. Cadenhead manage the lunch room at Mart and it was easy in the rush to loose sight of the boy. But when missed they immediately wired ahead trying to stop the train at Marlin, but it had already passed, so he was taken off the train at Bryan at 5:05 o'clock. Too small to make himself known yet he was carefully guarded by the people aboard the train. They had supplied him with fruit, pictures and toys and he was gleefully having the best time of his life. The child was tenderly cared for in Bryan by Sheriff and Mrs. L. E. Morehead until 8:30 o'clock Sunday night when the little boy's sister, Miss Tressie Cadenhead who lives in Marlin, arrived by automobile and carried him back home.

TEXAS BOY RECEIVES COMMENDATION FOR NOBLE RESCUE WORK

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 1.—Secretary of the Navy Denby has written letters of commendation to Pharmacist Mate Louis Brusco, of Decatur, Illinois, and Hospital Apprentice Tracy Frank Italy, of San Antonio, Texas, for the rescue of Hospital Apprentice Robert Lee Cook from drowning in Sweetwater Lake, Colorado, on July 17, 1911.

the state, in arriving at a knowledge of the behavior in each locality of those types and qualities of cotton which will find favor with the trade and may be produced with such efficiency as to leave the producer a fair margin of profit, even in competition with every cotton growing section in the world. As soon as better varieties are thus created, they will be distributed to the farmers and to seed breeders for further distribution. Re-

ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

SOEMNL AND SILENT K.K.K. PARADE GIVEN IN BRYAN

Over Thirty Horsemen With the U. S. Flag and the Fiery Cross Accompanied by 300 Robed Klansmen In Automobiles Parade in Bryan Before 10,000 People—Appear Out of the Darkness and Disappear Again.

Sounding a military bugle call at about 9:30 o'clock last night the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared in solemn parade on main street before about 10,000 people assembled in Bryan. There were 600 or 700 automobiles parked along Main street and thousands of people thronged the streets. They came from Millican, Wellborn, Tabor, Hearne, Calvert, Franklin, Navasota and other places in Brazos and adjoining counties. About thirty-six horsemen, hooded with the animals draped as the old-time Ku Klux Klan rode in the days of the reconstruction of the South. At the head of the procession as it wheeled into Main street going north was a flaming fiery cross followed by a huge United States flag. After the horsemen came a long line of automobiles bearing about 300 hooded and disguised figures, seated from two to seven in the cars as they silently proceeded north and then returning disappeared in the darkness as they came. Before the arrival of the parade about 1,500 students of A. and M. College who had nearly all marched five miles to Bryan to witness the parade gave the celebrated "snake dance" amid cheers and applause. During the parade the streets were jammed with people. It had been many a day since such a vast concourse assembled here. From the second story window a representative of the Eagle could read some of the banners as they passed slowly up Main street. They read: "We Are 100 per cent Americans," "School Boys Stay at Home at Night," "Speak the American Language While on the Streets of Bryan," "Negroes Hit the Cotton Patch—Don't Ask the Price," "We Are Determined Men," "Bootleggers, Gamblers and Night Jitney Drivers Reform—We Know You," "The Immoral Women Must Go," "Good Law abiding Negroes Need Not Fear," "God Pity the Man Who Commits a Crime in the Name of the K. K. K. Do Not Misrepresent Us," "We Stand For Law Enforcement," "We Are Behind Our Officers in Law Enforcement," "Spend Most of Your Time at Home With Your Wife," "There Is a Job For Everybody. Find One," "White Negro Lovers Must Leave Town or Reform," "Get Your Patriotism on Straight and Protect Your Home and Your Government and the Law and Fear Not." There were other signs but in the darkness at times could not be read.

At 3 p. m. Tuesday the Daily Eagle received a message that the parade would take place and published it at 4 p. m. Immediately the wires were busy and the people everywhere got the news of the coming of the Klan. The Eagle received many telephone calls regarding the parade from surrounding towns and in reply to the question: "Can you vouch for the report being true that the K. K. K. will parade in Bryan," all that could be answered was "come and see." They came and many estimated the crowd at 12,000 and there was at least 10,000 people standing attention as the white robed, hooded figures came from the darkness of the night in mysterious manner and in an hour passed out again and were gone. Nearly all the figures were huge specimens and were grim reminders of the banners they carried, holding them aloft. How many Klansmen there are in this section is not known but it is said there are 175,000 in Texas, 9000 being in Houston and 8000 in Dallas. It is said there are 150 Klans now in Texas at present. They act on orders and move silently and mysteriously without any friction and they disappear here to be seen again in some distant town and no man seems to know "from whence they come or whither they go."

IMPERIAL WIZARD SIMMONS WANTS INVESTIGATION
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 1.—William J. Simmons, head of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, announced today in an official statement that he had transmitted telegrams to all members of congress urging their support of the Tague and Ryan resolutions which propose a sweeping congressional investigation of the activities of the "invisible empire" through the United States. Col. Simmons said he wired the congressmen that the Klan would "appreciate the opportunity of proving by unimpeachable witnesses" the falsity of charges preferred against the organization.

KLAN GIVES NEEDED HOUSTON WIDOW $1,000.
Houston, Texas, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Jack Ralston, widow of an electrician, who died this morning following his severe burning yesterday while repairing breakdowns in the lighting system of the city, last night revealed that she had received $1000 from the Ku Klux Klan as is provided by their insurance branch. This is the first time known here that the order had such a provision. Discussing the incident last night Mrs. Ralston said: "A man called Thursday morning and said that he brought insurance money from one of the lodges to which Jack belonged. He later told me that he was from the Ku Klux Klan and that Jack was also a member of the Klan and that it was Klan insurance that he was giving me. He gave me 20 $50 bills. I never knew until this morning that Jack was a Klansman."

PROSPECT NEIGHBORHOOD

Prospect, Brazos County, Oct. 3.—Our community enjoyed a nice and comfortable rain the last of the week. The first we have had since June 25, therefore was surely enjoyed for stock water was getting scarce. Though it was but a light rain, considering the ground was so awfully dry but the stock water will last two or three weeks and we are expecting more rain by that time.

Brother Thompson, our much beloved pastor did not preach at our church Sunday on account of the singing convention at Reliance and Steep Hollow. Many of our young folks attended.

J. H. Lowry and nephew, Curry Simmons had a very exciting affair last Thursday evening with a yellow jacket or a hornet nest and it came very near being a serious accident for both men, wagon and mules. They were collecting wood and turned out on the side of the road, near a bad wash out. Simmons was driving and Lowry was walking when suddenly and unexpectedly they drove into a large nest of yellow jackets or hornets. Each one about the size of a bee which swarmed up and covered the driver and mules, especially the gray mule. The mules instantly became frantic and unmanageable, turning around the wrong way and ran the wagon into a ditch. The boy lost his hat and the pesky things covered his face, head and back. Lowry arrived on the spot as soon as he could and grabbed both mules by the bridle and by the aid of the boy, though suffering from numerous stings very painful finally succeeded in freeing the mules from the wagon. Both mules went straight home at a fast gait, one that would have easily taken a prize at a race track. Lowry was only stung once but the nephew was stung some twenty times, but he still remained with his uncle until the mules were free and safe in the barn. Quite a creditable act even of a son for a father and not all of them would have stood that much. This is a warning for all farmers to be more careful where they drive to and look for such pests and destroy them with carbon bisulphide, kerosene oil will not do it. Such pests are very dangerous to yoked stock.

SCHOOL DISTRICT HAS NOT A PERSON OF SCHOLASTIC AGE

La Porte City, Ia., Oct. 5.—A school district without pupils is disclosed in reports by school officers to H. C. Moeller, county superintendent of Black Hawk county. The school district is number four, Big Creek township, in the southern part of the county, and a census shows that there is not one child of school age, five to twenty-one years. Iowa laws do not permit any outside power to force this district to join with another district. Hence this district is hailed as the taxpayer's paradise, for without the school levy the tax is comparatively light.

E. M. Myers of La Porte City, secretary of the district reports that there is no school building, no teacher, no school board, no tax and no one of school age. According to the report the school district is an entity almost without existence. No one in the district is deaf or dumb or blind. There is but one freeholder living on his land in the district with his wife, and they have no children. The few other residents are tenant farmers without children.

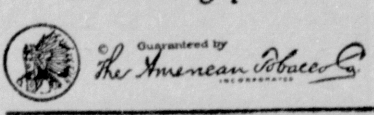

Years ago a school was maintained but most of the pupils came from over the line in Benton county. Since that time no one has attacked the legality of district number four, and so it continues its lifeless life or deathless death. The records of the county superintendent must each year contain the report of district number four, but each year it has been the same—no pupils, no school, nothing.

CRIMINAL DOCKET IN DISTRICT COURT

Below is the petit jury in the Brazos County District Court summoned by Sheriff L. E. Morehead for the week beginning Monday, October 10, which will be criminal week: Ceburn Keith, H. B. Crawford, M. P. Sims, C. E. Locke, S. I. Dowling, J. B. Carroll, R. R. Newcomb, J. R. Peyton, R. L. Brodgon, C. C. Vick, J. M. Gordon, J. M. Bond, P. W. McSwain, D. L. Wilson, J. R. Fain, Otho Williams, Frank Wallen, J. D. Battle, V. C. Andrews, J. Tom Smith, R. L. Etheridge, J. W. Harris, C. M. Cole, C. E. Seeley, John A. Moore, P. L. Barron, Ed Hrdlicka, Guy F. Boyett, B. F. Moore, J. M. Glaze, Sam Saladiner, Sam Hanover, L. M. Glaze, J. T. Griffin, M. L. Parker and J. S. Mooring.

Criminal Docket.
Judge Davis called the criminal docket during the week and the following cases were disposed of:

Mat Harris, passing forged instruments. Plea of guilty and given two years in the penitentiary under a suspended sentence.

Jesse Kelley, forgery. Verdict by the jury of guilty and given two years in the penitentiary.

Garfield Parker, burglary. Pleaded guilty and given two years in the penitentiary.

The Bryan Eagle is giving more Bryan and Brazos County and College news than any newspaper ever published in Bryan. Perhaps this is because it has so little advertising in its columns.—Fairfield Recorder.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS DISTRICT MEETING

Chairman Henry Locke, of the K. of P. Bible Class Campaign states that the ladies will be especially invited to attend the barbecue about 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, October 12. All arrangements are being made for this event. There will be visitors here from Navasota, Brenham, Cameron, Houston, Caldwell, Normangee, Franklin, Calvert, Hempstead and other places. Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe, of Houston, will accompany the Houston visitors, including the degree team, Glee Club and band. THIEVES READ THE EAGLE.
Mr. H. P. Dancy is now doubtful as to whether or not advertising pays. He had a peacan crop on the Carter farm about a mile from College and advertised in the Daily Eagle to the effect that the farm was posted according to law. He went further and stated that all trespassers would be prosecuted according to law, there being a heavy fine attached to theft of produce on a farm that has been posted.

Mr. Dancy states the strange part of it is that as soon as the advertisement appeared that a run was made on the peacan crop, some parties going in and threshing at night. Mr. Dancy decided to stop the advertisement and put a guard over his property. Evidently thieves have been reading the Eagle and have profited thereby up to this time—but they may pay dearly for their crimes when they are brought face to face with the law.

GLORIOUS SEPTEMBER DAY.
Today, September 30th is Friday in Brazos county. It is a wonderful day. Rainfall was .85 last night and the cooling breezes swept over the heated earth. The weather is cool and crisp today and the flowers of Autumn are bright-hued and the trees have the golden and red hues of foliage. This is, indeed, a glorious day.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR BAPTIST CHURCH

Monday was the beginning of a New Year with the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Baptist church and the splendid achievements accomplished during the past year proved the wisdom of selecting Mrs. D. D. Jolly for their president during her administration the society has reached the high mark of excellency for the first time in its history and all appointments have been met. A Missionary Study Class, a Girl's Auxiliary, an A. Y. W. A., were organized and three new circles added to her own auxiliary. The good work did not stop with her own church but was taken into the rural districts where splendid active auxiliaries were formed. This great impetus given to the work by Mrs. D. D. Jolly will, it is predicted be carried on successfully by the new incoming president, Mrs. R. B. Grant, an even greater work is yet to be accomplished.

Randolph were given the Council degrees. A wonderfully fine, fraternal meeting was held until the solemn midnight hour.

FEDERAL LIQUOR LAWS GRASP FATTY ARBUCKLE

Whisky Charges Now Paramount—Women Cheer Fatty When He Gave Bond and Was Released—Judge Lazarus Is Criticized by Officials and People For His Action.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Preparations for the prosecution of Fatty Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter today were overshadowed least for a time by the federal investigation of the supply of liquor drunk by guests at the Arbuckle party at St. Francis hotel. It is stated that there were many girls and men, nearly all movie actors, who attended Fatty's debauch for two days before Virginia Rappe was killed and a vast amount of intoxicants were consumed.

FAITY PREFARES TO LEAVE SAN FRANCISCO.
San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Fatty Arbuckle, facing two charges of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, planned to leave for Los Angeles with his party Thursday night, after having been granted his liberty on bail Wednesday. According to Frank E. Dominguez, his chief counsel, the party will include Arbuckle, his wife, Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle; her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee, and his counsel, Dominguez; Charles H. Brennan and Milton T. Cohen. "Fatty" made his $5,000 bond and went into seclusion for a short time. He was cheered by a number of sporting women when he made his bond and was released.

BRADY FLAYS JUDGE LAZARUS AS DESERVED.
(By Associated Press)
San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—Assertions that Police Judge Sylvain Lazarus treated the case of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle differently from the usual case, were made in a long statement issued last night by District Attorney Matthew Brady. The statement quoted what purported to be the exact words of Judge Lazarus with the assertion that it was indicative of his attitude. "If Roscoe Arbuckle were unknown and unimportant," Brady's statement declared, "he would have been held for murder. John Lazarus plainly stated that more evidence would be required in this case than in another case for the reason that the defendant was an important celebrity."

Brady's statement quoted Judge Lazarus as having said in court today: "The district attorney has attempted to give us the impression that the proof required in this present case warranting a holding should not go any further than would be required or necessary in another case. But I say that this is really an important case; we need not disguise that fact or beguile ourselves into the idea that we are handling here just the ordinary trivial case if you wish to put it that way, which frequently comes up in the police court." The district attorney declared Judge Lazarus' action in holding Arbuckle for manslaughter to be wholly mystifying. Brady then cited the last as defining deaths ensuing from felonious acts as murder and those resulting from misdemeanors to the manslaughter and continued: "Judge Lazarus took the view that the killing of Virginia Rappe may have resulted from a wholly innocent and trivial act, and said the defendant may have slapped her and been guilty of nothing more than simple battery upon Virginia Rappe, but the testimony shows he did a great deal more, and those acts were entirely felonious in their nature."

WILL JOHNSON (COL) INSTANTLY KILLED AT BRYAN OIL MILL

Will Johnson, colored, employed at the Bryan Oil Mill, was instantly killed this morning about 7 o'clock when he fell backward, supposedly in a faint, his head striking a shaft of the machinery, knocking out his brains. The man had not been well for several days, and was subject to spells of fainting. When he arrived at the mill this morning to begin his day's work, he went into the work room as was his custom, and sat down on a box to change his shoes, and clothing for his work clothes, and without any seeming warning, the faint came over him and he fell backward and was killed as above stated. Justice of the Peace J. W. Hamilton held an inquest, after which the body was taken to the home. A wife and two small children survive the dead man.

COLLEGE BOYS SHOULD LEAVE HEARTS ALONE

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 3.—Heart-breaking takes up altogether too much of the young college student's time, in the opinion of Robert D. Highfill, co-ordinator of the Federal Board of Northwestern University. "Tampering with a heart is a precarious procedure and in no way essential to a college education," he told students "It's a pitfall that has trapped many an unwary student. Besides, it's expensive, involving much useless extravagance, such as taxicab bills, and candy. "Better leave the hearts alone, boys."

ONLY RAIN WILL SOFTEN BRAZOS WATER

(Waco News-Tribune)

A heavy rain, sufficient to cause at least a 10-foot rise in the Brazos, is the only practical remedy for the hardness of water and making it possible for housewives to wash clothes as they have been accustomed to do, according to City Chemist C. C. Hays. It is possible to soften the water by using strong alkaline substances, but this would involve an expense which would not justify the outlay, Mr. Hays says. Another objection to using alkaline chemicals as a detergent to the great amount of chlorine now in the water is that enough to be of any advantage would be so strong that it would be injurious to the hands.

The chlorine content is especially heavy at this time, the city chemist states, and a thorough rise in the river will be necessary to wash away the water from the salt fork of the Brazos which is causing the trouble. Ordinarily the chlorine content in the water is from 40 to 50 parts but since water has become as it is there is an amount varying from 950 to even greater parts of chlorine present, Mr. Hays says.

MISS PIPKIN TO BE BAYLOR STUDENT SECRETARY

Miss Lois Pipkin, the accomplished daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Pipkin of this city, has accepted the position of Student Secretary at Baylor College, Belton, and will begin her new work October 15th. Miss Pipkin has held a responsible position in the office of the registrar at A. & M. College for the past two years and her resignation was accepted with much regret by the entire faculty of the college. As student secretary at Baylor College, Miss Pipkin's work will be partly among the students at the college and partly in organizing ex-students and alumnae over the state. As a graduate in the 1919 class at Baylor, Miss Pipkin has been recalled several times to take a prominent part in the activities at the college and her appointment to this important work is a result of her very efficient and capable service already rendered her alma mater. Bryan is proud of the honor thus conferred upon one of her worthy daughters and Miss Pipkin will assume her new duties attended by the very best wishes of a host of loving friends who bespeak for her success in the task before her.

COL. JOHN B. MAYFELD AT REST.

When the sad news came to Austin that Col. John B. Mayfield, of Tyler, Texas, had died suddenly just after closing his speech at the East Texas Fair Governor Neff ordered the flag on the capital building at Austin to stand at half mast in the honor of a distinguished and beloved citizen. Col. Mayfield for sixty years had been active in the affairs of Texas and had amassed a fortune at the head of a business that had done much for East Texas. He was a confederate soldier, fearless, brave and a citizen of high order, never faltering in the discharge of his duty. He was a loyal citizen and a generous friend. He was above all a patient and a just and upright man. One of Col. Mayfield's last expressions came to the editor of the Eagle a few days ago. He said: "I want to express my deep appreciation for your able defense of the educational institutions of higher learning in Texas in the legislature. Your friends here—and they are legion, ask me to convey expressions of our confidence in your action and pledge you our support." No nobler, knightly or kindly man ever lived than John B. Mayfield. A patriotic, true, loyal, courageous christian sleeps the last long earthly sleep but he is at rest in Heaven.

Prosperous Farmer's Wife Nearly Starved

Declaring she was actually starving to keep from suffering awful misery, Mrs. Amy Peterson, wife of a prosperous farmer of Lakeville, Mass., gave out a remarkable statement, recently, in connection with her relief through the use of Tanlac.

"Sometimes I wonder how I lived through it all," she said. "I would have attacks of acute indigestion nearly every time I ate anything. Those terrible cramping pains and the distress from gas and bloating were almost unbearable and I just thought there was no hope for me.

"But now I'm eating anything and I feel as strong and well as I ever felt in my life. I've gained back all the weight I lost and six pounds besides and I know from my experience what Tanlac will do. It's the best medicine in the world."

CLUB PRIZES WON TO THE DALLAS FAIR

Inspection of Club projects and the contest held at County Agent Beason's office last Saturday have enabled the judges to make announcement of the following winners for trips to the Educational Encampment during the Dallas Fair:

Fruit Cotton; Ezra Bozeman, Zack Prolific Corn; Russell Etheridge, Harvey.

Spanish Peanuts; Lum Powers, Steep Hollow.

Shorthorn Baby Beef; Joe Lloyd, Jr., Reliance.

There being no Home Demonstration Agent in Brazos County, Miss Laura F. Neale, State Home Demonstration Agent, Extension Service, kindly consented to permit three girls from Brazos County to attend the Educational Encampment, October 18 to 21, following that of the boys' on October 11 to 14.

The girls selected were the ones scoring the highest in each of three leading club projects, and are as follows: Poultry, Barred Rocks, Eloise Smith, College Consolidated School; Fruit Cotton, Emma Gandy, Tabor high school; Pig, Poland China, Hettie Francis, Tabor high school.

In the event the winners fail to attend the Fair, those standing next highest may take their place. This being the case pass cards will not be issued till time of departure for Dallas. Those standing second are: Cotton, Julian Cobb; Corn, Guy Tobias; Baby Beef, Tillman Jones and Harold Shealy tying for second place; Poultry, Ben Frank Ammons; girls, Inez Etheridge.

Checking up by S. C. Evans, Club Specialist on the Baby Beef Club developed some very interesting points which should be of interest especially to the ten boys in the Shorthorn club. The three highest boys were, Harold Shealy, Tillman Jones and Joe Lloyd, Jr., and the score on each stood as follows:

Shealy, individual, 40 percent, gain 15 percent, cost, 15 percent, record, 15 percent, total 80 percent.

Jones, individual, 30 percent, gain 15 percent, cost, 20 percent, record, 15 percent, total 80 percent.

Lloyd, individual, 35 percent, gain, 12 percent, cost, 25 percent, record 20 percent, total 92 percent.

It may be recalled by some that Joe Lloyd's heifer on May 21, was considered one of the off heifers on the day of allotment. Recent inspection by Mr. Evans showed her to be the second heifer among the ten. The splendid record book submitted by Joe also showed that he had fed his heifer a better balanced ration at less than the other boys, thus enabling him to score high on cost record.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR WORLD WAR HERO CORP. JOSEPH LERO

The body of Corp. Joseph F. Lero, Company B, 141st Infantry, World War hero, killed in action in France October 9th, 1918, arrived in Bryan Friday afternoon at 5:05 o'clock over the I. & G. N. railway from Fort Sam Houston and was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lero. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Earl Graham Post No. 159 American Legion with military services at 3:30 o'clock from the home and at 4 o'clock services will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic church, conducted by Rev. J. B. Gleisner. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Joseph Lero was born in Bryan February 8, 1893 and was 25 years 3 months and 1 day old when killed October 9th, 1918. He enlisted in the war from Brazos county, June 23rd, 1917 at Fort Sam Houston. July 26, 1918 he was sent overseas doing active service up to the time of his death. For faithful service and bravery young Lero won honor from his country. There is left to mourn his loss besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lero, three brothers; Frank, Louis and Pete all of Bryan; three sisters, Maggie Lero, Wichita, Kansas, Mary Lero and Mrs. Joe Hermon of Bryan.

How Austin's Colony Was Founded in Texas

Austin, Texas, October 5.—One hundred years ago a small band of colonists under Stephen F. Austin crossed the Sabine river into what was then an unknown country. They settled in various parts of the wilderness, forming a government, and then broke away from the oppression of Santa Anna, ruler of Mexico and self styled "Napoleon of the West." Gaining freedom from Mexico, the colonists formed the republic of Texas, elected General Sam Houston the first president and Stephen F. Austin, the leader of the colonists, secretary of state. Then 25 years after the first colonists arrived, the republic of Texas was admitted into the United States as the state of Texas. Thus in a few words is described the history of the founding of Texas. The year 1921 is centennial year and pageants and celebrations are scheduled in various parts of the state commemorating Austin's colony. Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, archivist of the University of Texas and versed in the early history of the state, tells of the struggles of Austin's colony and the subsequent freedom from the Mexican government. Her article follows in part: "The story of the early history of Texas is the story of international contests. The first contest was between France and Spain. By chance, LaSalle landed on the Texas coast instead of at the mouth of the Mississippi, where he had hoped to plant the standard of the king of France and to found an enduring colony. Rumors of this landing reached the Spaniards in far-away Mexico and they hastened to form plans for driving out the daring intruders and to make sure their claim by founding mission, presidio and town. But by the time they finally reached the scene, disease, famine and the cruel Karankawa Indians had wiped out almost every trace of the French occupation. The incentive to vigorous action, being thus removed, the Spaniards were content with a mere nominal possession except at such rare intervals as the priests could inspire them with a longing to win the friendly Indians to the bosom of the church or the threat of renewed French aggression stirred their martial spirit.

"From their narrow homes along the Atlantic ocean, the Americans began their irresistible march toward the distant Pacific coast. Among the noted torch bearers of this valiant race was Moses Austin of Connecticut and Virginia. Braving the dangers of the trackless wilderness, enduring hunger, cold and countless privation he fixed his home west of the Mississippi in the heart of the territory occupied by the Spaniards who held the basin of the great river as custodians for the French to whom they had for the time being become reconciled. Here he became familiar with the language, laws and customs of the Spaniards and learned how to defend his family and his friends against the lurking savage and how to develop the agricultural, mineral and commercial resources of the country. But the main body of the Americans was now coming, the demand for the possession of the Mississippi became more insistent and the United States government was able to secure from Napoleon, a title to the whole Louisiana. The torch bearer must needs push farther westward. Across the Sabine lay Texas, a wilderness, roamed by the wild Indian whose supremacy was undisputed save by a few soldiers of Spain, entrenched in scattered presidios, a handful of colonists, fearful of venturing forth to conquer the wilderness and a few faithful priests who had gathered about them a small number of the more traceable Indians. The Spaniards now determined to erect a strong buffer against the oncoming tide of Americans to enforce their old laws forbidding the presence of foreigners within their domain, while a few of the boldest began a determined struggle to break the chains of commercial and governmental restrictions that bound them to a hopeless existence. But rumors of the wonderful riches of Texas were carried back to Louisiana by hardy traders who penetrated the region and by soldiers of fortune who ventured in to aid the revolutionists in their seemingly hopeless task of forming a republican government after the model of that of the United States.

"In 1819, however, all prospects of conflict between the governments of the United States and Spain over the possession of Texas were dispelled by a treaty in which the United States abandoned claim to the country. In the following year the revolutionists were granted a liberal constitution and beneficent laws which promised protection to foreigners who would aid in the developments of the country. The man and the hour had met Moses Austin, mindful of his success in winning his former home from the wilderness, arranged with the authorities to bring in settlers from Louisiana. But the long journey across Texas to the capital at San Antonio de Bexar and back to the Sabine across a country entirely laid waste by civil wars, cost him his life. His mantle fell upon his son, Stephan Fuller Austin, a youth in years, but gifted, earnest and true, schooled in the stern life of the frontier and familiar with the Spaniard character. But a few years and he had wrought a wonderful change in the country. A few quotations from his own letters which are among the possessions of the University of Texas, will show his hopes, his motives and his accomplishments. From the many clear and impressive statements of his motives the following extract has been chosen as most characteristic:

"My ambition has been to succeed in redeeming Texas from its wilderness state by means of the plough, in spreading over it North American population, enterprise and intelligence. I think I derive more satisfaction from the view of flourishing farms springing up in the wilderness than military or political triumphs do from the retrospect of their victorious campaign. Probably as early as 1827, Austin had visited the spot where the city which bears his name now stands and had asked permission from the government to found a town on the spot. That the men he induced to settle his colony were suited to the task of subduing the Indians, conquering the wilderness and founding enduring homes was soon proven. When a sufficient number had arrived to justify the election of Texas into a state of the Mexican republic which had been formed soon after his entry into Texas, Austin undertook the delicate mission of persuading the authorities at Mexico City that the claim was a just one. Meeting with harassing delay when everything was in chaos at home, he wrote advising that a temporary government be established to meet the exigencies of the times. This the government considered treasonable and Austin was immediately thrust into prison where he was prevented from communicating with any person. Austin was finally released from prison by Santa Anna who hoped that he might be able to persuade the colonists to accept the arbitrary government he was seeking to impose upon the whole of Mexico. But the colonists recognized that his real purpose was to make himself absolute dictator and flew to arms in defense of their sacred rights. Austin steadfastly resisted every effort of Santa Anna to become absolute arbiter of the fate of the country. He led a volunteer army against the advance guards of the tyrant and drove them back beyond the Rio Grande. But threats of renewed invasion were heard, the provisional government recalled Austin from the field and sent him to the United States to secure men and money for the approaching struggle while Houston was left to the task of organizing and training the troops. "At the Alamo, Bowie, Crockett, Travis and their brave companions sacrificed their lives for the cause of freedom. This was the spark which fired the hearts of their brethren of the United States; and Austin was sent to that country for help and found enthusiasm a thousand fold more strong than he had hoped, and hundreds of volunteers, fully armed and equipped, hurried to the rescue. On April 21, at San Jacinto, Texas gained the independence which she had so boldly avowed on March 2. Thus freed the victors entered the family of nations as the republic of Texas. Austin had found Texas with less than 2,500 inhabitants. In fifteen years it had attained a population of over 30,000. As secretary of state under President Sam Houston, Austin succeeded in organizing a government so wise and so stable that Great Britain, France, The Netherlands and the United States soon recognized the infant republic and were anxious to make treaties with her. But before all this could be accomplished, Austin died, December 27th, 1836, at the age of 43, on the eve of fruition of his labors, with the country redeemed from the wilderness and others assuming the burden of responsibility that had deprived him of home, wife and family. For fifteen years he had held the destiny of Texas in the hollow of his hand and characteristically his last conscious thought was of its welfare. He waked from a dream thinking that the United States had recognized independence and died in that belief. But Austin's services to Texas did not end with his death which was indeed one of fate's grim ironies—a distressing tragedy. From the United States men continued to come to join their kinsmen; and so it was that instead of becoming a French colony, a British dependency, a Spanish or Mexican possession, or of remaining a republic, Texas entered the union in 1845—just 25 years after Austin brought his first colonists into the country. Thus was consummated the inevitable connection between the policies and interests of Texas and those of her kinsmen to the north who were enjoying the inestimable benefits of a republican form of government."

MISS WEDDINGTON IS ON TEXT BOOK BOARD

(Special to the Eagle)
Austin, Texas, Sept. 30.—Miss Wesa Weddington, teacher of Latin and history in the Bryan High School, and H. D. Fillers, superintendent of schools at Corsicana, were today appointed members of the new State Textbook Commission to succeed Miss Mary Ship Sanders of Georgetown and R. B. Cobb, City Superintendent, at Waco, who were recently appointed by the governor when the entire commission was announced. Miss Weddington is principal of the Bryan High school and is well known in Texas.
Mr. Cobb, who was the only member of the previous commission to be re-appointed, declined to continue, saying his business affairs would not permit. Miss Sanders, County Superintendent of Williamson County, certified her own disqualification, advising that she was ineligible in not having taught the required number of years in the public schools immediately preceding her appointment.
